Welcome from the President

Henri Nouwen seemed destined to do great things.

The Pursuit of Ministry Success

Born in the Netherlands, the young man was a deep thinker, and after studying theology, Nouwen was named a visiting professor at the University of Notre Dame.

Henri Nouwen then became a full professor at Yale Divinity School, where his writing gained wide readership. (His 39 books sold over 7 million copies in 30 languages.) Nouwen's traveling preaching ministry grew as well. When preacher Robert Schuller's Hour of Power broadcast was reaching 20 million viewers each Sunday, Schuller invited Nouwen to preach three consecutive Sundays for the broadcast.

Eventually, Nouwen landed at Harvard Divinity School as Professor of Divinity. But something was wrong. For a scholar like Nouwen, Harvard was the top rung of the ladder, center stage, the brightest spotlight. But his soul could not find rest. Someone said, "When the light on you is brighter than the light in you, the light on you will destroy you." Spiritually, Nouwen found himself "in a very dark place."

So Henri Nouwen made a decision that shocked his world.

Nouwen resigned from Harvard to work at L'Arche, a home for mentally handicapped people.

The Joy of Ministry Faithfulness

"I moved from the best and the brightest, wanting to rule the world," he wrote, "to men and women who had few or no words and were considered, at best, marginal to the needs of society. It was a very hard and painful move. After twenty years of being free to go where I wanted and to discuss what I chose," he now lived "a small, hidden life with people whose broken minds and bodies demand a strict daily routine in which words are the least requirement."

None of them could read his books. His accomplishments did not impress them. And yet in his new routine at L'Arche—serving meals, changing soiled clothes, slow and halting conversations, hugs and punches, day after day—his soul slowly found refreshment in life with the residents and with God.

The joy of the Lord is not found in success, but in simple faithfulness, wherever you are.

When the Jerusalem church started in Acts 2, it too seemed destined to do great things. Thousands came to Christ—success after success. But in Acts 8, persecution struck. The believers scattered, suddenly leaving the throngs of the Jerusalem church behind for "a small hidden life" in some tucked away place. Disappointment and discouragement threatened to overtake them.

So James, preacher of the Jerusalem church, writes his letter to say: wherever God has scattered you, stay faithful. And if you do, even if it's "hard and painful," you can "consider it pure joy." (James 1:2)

Maybe that's a message you need. We're glad you're here for the 2026 Preaching-Teaching Convention! This week, as we study through James, our prayer is this: may God give you joy as you remain faithful...wherever you are.

Workshops

L = LIBRARY CLASSROOM

M = MISSIONS BUILDING CLASSROOM

IMC = IDLEMAN MINISTRY CENTER CLASSROOM

TUESDAY

2:30-3:20 PM

LEADING THROUGH COOPERATIVE PREACHING (L11)

Dr. Fred Hansen and Monte French

After serving together as elder and lead minister in Marion Road Christian Church in Rochester, Minnesota, Fred and Monte will draw on their experiences to share wisdom on involving elders in the preaching of the church.

WORKING GENIUS OVERVIEW (IMC110)

Damien Spikereit

An assessment-based resource to help teams work better together and more efficiently. As a certified facilitator with Working Genius, Damien will provide an overview of the model, how it can help your team, and a summary of what is involved in a team training.

RENEW.ORG PRESENTS: THE WORD OF THE LORD (M39)

Jonathan Storment

What makes a sermon more than a speech?

FROM PROGRAMS TO PURPOSE: TURNING ATTENDERS INTO PARTNERS IN MISSION (L15)

Andrew Estes

Why do most people come to your church? Is it because of the preacher, the building, their friends, or the programs? While these connections might draw people in, they don't always lead to lives transformed on mission. This workshop challenges leaders to move beyond measuring success by attendance or program participation and instead focus on equipping their people to carry out the mission of the church every day. Learn how to shift your culture from consumer-driven involvement to vision-centered disciple-making, where people are uniquely trained, empowered, and sent to live out their faith with purpose.

COTTON CANDY WORLD: AN OVERVIEW OF THE MAIN IDEAS OF ECCLESIASTES (L13)

Dr. Chad Ragsdale

In this workshop, we will explore the dominant themes of a misunderstood book and why its message is as urgent as ever.

THE PREACHER AND AI: FRIENDS OR FOES? (Chapel)

Dr. Jason Poznich

In this workshop, we'll explore the dangers and benefits of using AI in your sermon prep, as well as offer a few practical suggestions to help preachers use AI ethically and effectively.

ESTABLISHING A THEOLOGICAL VISION FOR WORSHIP MINISTRY (M36/38)

Corey Scott

In a day where we chase fads in worship services—the latest songs, models, or even the most ancient practices because they're "cool"—we must do the hard work of cultural assessment and engagement. This workshop will help navigate the hard work of seeing the biblical foundation for worship and assessing the current worship culture of your congregation, as well as how to shift that culture as needed to better engage (change) the culture in your community.

FORMATION VS. DEFORMATION (M34)

Tyler McKenzie

How do we equip the church to resist popular culture during one of the most mind-capturing times in human history?

HELPING STUDENTS FOLLOW THROUGH (IMC116)

Jayson French and Eric Epperson

The three things every student needs to stay connected to Jesus and serve in your church.

OCC ACADEMY AND YOUR CHURCH (M26)

Jim Dalrymple and Justin Dewell

OCC has several new ministry resources for you and your church. In this workshop, you will learn more about OCC Academy, Ministry Cohorts, NextLevel, and OCC Press. Hear about new and upcoming content as well as strategies for how you might implement these resources in your church.

COLOSSIANS: FAITHFUL IN A SMALL PLACE (M35/37)

Dr. Barney Wells

Though it was the smallest church in the smallest community of any to whom Paul wrote, there are more people in Colossae called "faithful" than in any other church that received an epistle. This workshop will look at the church in this small town and suggest four important characteristics of the faithful church in the small place.

TUESDAY

3:30-4:20 PM

RENEW.ORG PRESENTS: WHAT ACTUALLY WORKS (M39)

Bobby Harrington and Daniel McCoy

Disciple-making practices of North America's most effective disciple-making churches.

CALL AND CARE: LEADERSHIP PIPELINE FOR THE CHURCH (PART 1) (M36/38)

Tim Snyder

This two-part workshop will explore what the church is called to be in raising up the next generation of church leaders. The first session will focus on the call and care of pastors.

SOCIAL MEDIA, ALGORITHMS, & MINISTRY (IMC116)

Christian Shultz

This workshop will cover social media best practices for churches, when to use paid social media ads, and practical tools to streamline content creation.

UNCLOGGING THE MINISTRY PIPELINE (PART 1) (M26)

Robert Witte

Practical help on how to send more students from your church into vocational ministry.

MISSIONAL PARTNERSHIPS (L11)

Brice Wurdeman

Explore missions partnership issues and blessings for the local church in America. Learn about missional trends and how the local church can navigate their support and partnerships well with their global missions.

COUNSEL COUPLES WITH THE MIND OF CHRIST (IMC110)

Christian counseling applies biblical psychology and is distinctively different from generic counseling based on secular psychology. Our counsel should reflect that "we have the mind of Christ" (1 Corinthians 2:16). This presentation focuses on principles of marriage revealed by God in Scripture. Insight from over 55 years of marriage and 40 years of counseling couples will enrich you personally and enhance your ministry to married couples.

FAITHFUL TO THE WORD: TEACHING KIDS TO READ AND LIVE SCRIPTURE (L13)

Dr. Teresa Roberts

Faithful disciples start with a faithful reading of God's Word. In this workshop, Dr. Teresa Roberts will equip children's and student ministry leaders to help young people move beyond Bible stories to real biblical understanding. Learn practical ways to train kids and teens to interpret Scripture, connect truth to life, and develop a love for God's Word that strengthens their lifelong faith.

LEADING SIDE BY SIDE: HOW LEAD PASTORS AND ELDERS STAY HEALTHY TOGETHER (M35/37)

Lito Solorio and Jim Vasey

Every lead pastor-elder relationship experiences seasons of mountaintops and valleys. In this workshop, a lead pastor and elder will explore how to recognize healthy "mountaintop" seasons and steward them well, while also learning how to faithfully traverse valley seasons together without losing trust, unity, or mission. Through biblical principles and real ministry experience, this session will address communication, shared leadership, and navigating tension in a Christ-honoring way. The workshop will conclude with a dedicated Q&A time, allowing participants to engage directly with both a lead pastor and an elder on real-life leadership challenges.

SIMPLIFYING WILLS, TRUSTS, AND PROBATE (M34)

Doug Miller

Confused about estate planning, selecting guardians for minor children, preparing for incapacity, and avoiding probate? Using plain language OCC Attorney Doug Miller will explain how you can provide for your loved ones and favorite ministries with the least amount of time, effort, and cost. All attendees will receive a free estate planning guide.

BECOMING A HERO-MAKER: MOBILIZING YOUR CHURCH FOR EVERYDAY MISSION (L15)

Andrew Estes

Is your church's mission statement unintentionally placing the weight of the mission on a few rather than mobilizing everyone? Many pastors are seen as the primary "heroes," but true impact comes when leaders equip their people to carry the mission daily. This workshop helps church leaders evaluate whether their mission inspires involvement or limits it. Learn how to shift from a centralized, Sunday-focused model to empowering every believer to advance the Gospel in their everyday lives. Participants will leave with practical strategies to clarify and activate a mission that everyone shares and carries forward.

INCREASING YOUR MINISTRY LONGEVITY (Chapel)

Dr. Michael DeFazio

While critically important today, concerns about ministry burnout and the recipe for longevity are not new. What's more, our goal is not merely to last but to thrive. This workshop will explore wisdom from the Apostle Paul on maintaining ministry faithfulness all the way to the finish line.

LEADING WITH A LIMP: MAINTAINING MINISTRY EFFECTIVENESS WHEN YOU AREN'T AT YOUR BEST (L15)

Dr. Jeff Snell

Ministry leaders are not exempt from physical, emotional, and spiritual challenges. These difficulties are uniquely experienced and are often complex, but in many instances, God works through and beyond these circumstances to enhance our kingdom influence. This workshop will offer cautions and guidelines based on one leader's biblical and anecdotal reflections on life and leadership, as a complement to clinically-based insights that may be gleaned from other resources.

CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS OVERVIEW (IMC110)

Damien Spikereit

One key to building trust is healthy communication that rejects two unhealthy extremes—avoidance or verbal assault. Crucial Conversations offers a “truth-in-love” model for communicating hard things that can lead to growth and trust.

RENEW.ORG PRESENTS: PRACTICAL PRINCIPLES (M39)

Cam Huxford

What I've learned in over 50 years of ministry.

ELDERSHIP DEVELOPMENT AND ONBOARDING PROCESSES (M26)

Jim Dalrymple, Peter Buckland, and Dr. Michael DeFazio

Are you intentional about developing, training, testing, and onboarding elders in your church? This workshop will explore biblical principles and practices of healthy churches.

INTENTIONALLY SIMPLE WORSHIP SERVICES (M36/38)

Corey Scott

Often the most significant things in our lives are the simplest. Bread and juice become spiritual fuel. Songs become prayer. Clear proclamation becomes a frontal attack on the spiritual forces of evil. And a glorified bathtub becomes the occasion a person's eternity is changed. In curating worship gatherings, we have the charge to plan them not to “wow” people, but to empower people to go and do likewise. This workshop will make a case for the value of simple worship services, not to get off the hook of working hard, but to give our congregations handles from which they can lead their own worship gatherings for the purpose of multiplication.

FAITHFUL FAMILIES: EQUIPPING PARENTS TO RAISE DISCIPLES AT HOME (L13)

Dr. Teresa Roberts

James calls us to a faith that is lived out, not just believed. The same is true for families—children learn faith best when they see it in action at home. In this workshop, Dr. Teresa Roberts, author of Raising Disciples: Guiding Your Kids into a Faith of Their Own, equips church leaders to help parents live and teach authentic faith in everyday life. You'll discover practical ways to encourage, train, and resource parents to raise children who follow Jesus faithfully where they are.

HELPING STUDENTS FOLLOW THROUGH (IMC116)

Jayson French and Eric Epperson

The three things every student needs to stay connected to Jesus and serve in your church.

PREACHING AND TEACHING WORLDVIEW IN THE LOCAL CHURCH (M35/37)

Greg Taylor

This workshop will explore why it is crucial for preachers and teachers in the local church today to embrace and communicate a biblical worldview in our upside-down cultural moment. When the church and its leadership is silent on the important cultural issues of the day, they are forfeiting opportunities to communicate truth and help Christ followers develop and nurture an unapologetic Christian worldview.

IS YOUR ESTATE IN ORDER? (M34)

Doug Miller

Have you signed documents to plan for incapacity, end-of-life decisions, avoiding probate, and charitable giving? OCC Attorney Doug Miller will review a helpful estate-planning checklist to ensure that all of your intentions will be accomplished.

THE POWER OF THE PUSH (L11)

Penny Arnold

A necessary factor in student leadership development.

WEDNESDAY

3:30-4:20 PM

WHAT I WISH SOMEONE HAD TOLD ME (Chapel)

Matt Merold

Ten simple practices to help preachers find their voice.

RENEW.ORG PRESENTS: PARADIGM ON THE THEOLOGICAL HILLS TO DIE ON (M39)

Bobby Harrington and Daniel McCoy

The essential, important and personal elements of the faith.

CHAPLAINCY AS VITAL MINISTRY (M21)

Dr. Kal McAlexander

Ministers who pursue the field of chaplaincy find themselves on the frontlines of ministry in our society. Whether literally on the frontlines serving as a military chaplain or in hospitals, hospice care, prisons, jails, police departments, fire departments, or the VA system, chaplains have access to people and situations that no other minister has.

CREATE: LEADERSHIP PIPELINE FOR THE CHURCH (PART 2) (M36/38)

Tim Snyder

During this two-part workshop, we will explore what the church is called to be in raising up the next generation of church leaders. The second session will look at creating opportunities through internships and residency programs in your church.

UNCLOGGING THE MINISTRY PIPELINE (PART 2) (M26)

Robert Witte

Practical help on how to send more students from your church into vocational ministry.

WHAT DO YOU DO WHEN THE CHURCH YOU LOVE FEELS LIKE IT'S BARELY BREATHING? (L11)

Jeff Chamberlain

This workshop tells the honest story of a church that found itself on life support and the slow, sometimes messy way God began writing a new chapter. A chapter that was born out of real leadership decisions, hard conversations, missteps, prayer, and perseverance. Explore the biblical foundations and practical leadership principles that matter most when a church is struggling and share what actually helped, what didn't, and what we learned through the process.

A STUDY IN PSALMS (L13)

Matt Stafford

The psalms are the prayer book of God's people, shaping how we pray, worship, and understand God. In this workshop, we will explore selected psalms and discover practical ways to integrate them into our daily lives through study, meditation, and prayer.

COUNSEL PARENTS WITH THE MIND OF CHRIST (IMC110)

Dr. Don Ott

Christian counseling applies biblical psychology and is distinctively different from generic counseling based on secular psychology. Our counsel should reflect that "we have the mind of Christ" (1 Corinthians 2:16). This presentation focuses on principles of parenting revealed by God in Scripture. Insight from 33 years with five children and 40 years of counseling parents will enrich you personally and enhance your ministry to parents.

TROUBLE THROUGH THE AGES: THE PROBLEM OF FALSE GOSPELS AND HERESY IN THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD (M35/37)

Greg Taylor

This workshop will address the 2,000-year-old problem of false gospels and doctrines and its impact on the local church and culture. From the first-century heresy of Gnosticism to the fourth-century heresy of Arianism to modern-day heresies like progressive Christianity, the prosperity gospel, and moralistic therapeutic deism, church leaders must be equipped to recognize false gospels and communicate truth in our current culture of relativism.

SEEING GOD AS CENTRAL TO YOUR MINISTRY (IMC116)

Andy Nichols

While the daily, weekly, and yearly demands of ministry life often work against attentiveness to God's presence, nothing is more important to serving God than knowing and loving God. In this workshop, Andy will draw wisdom from church history as well as his own ministry experience to explore how spiritual leaders can see and savor God in all things.

FINDING CONTENTMENT: A STUDY IN THE BOOK OF PHILIPPIANS (L15)

Amy Storms

The apostle Paul's letter to the Philippians has much to say to today's churches and church leaders. Learn Paul's keys to contentment and how you can apply them to your life and ministry.

FOUR MINDSETS IN THE RURAL CHURCH (M34)

Dr. Barney Wells

How individuals learn to survive daily life affects how they understand time, work, wealth, people, and other basic ideas. In this workshop, we will examine the four most common ways of thinking in a rural church (or, really, in almost any church) and explore how these mindsets influence church leadership.

PENNY ARNOLD

Penny spent 25 years in education as a teacher, coach, and administrator before becoming a full-time children's minister at Red Brush Christian Church in Louisville, Illinois. Penny's desire to meld ministry development with educational practices led her to create the Step Forward Student Leadership Program, a new style of student discipleship.

PETER BUCKLAND

Peter is an elder and the senior director of personnel and strategy at Christ's Church of Oronogo in Oronogo, Missouri. He also teaches as an adjunct professor at OCC, where he taught full-time for 20 years in the areas of leadership, family ministry, counseling, and Christian education. Peter specializes in the areas of marriage and family relationships. Peter and his wife, Vana, have been married for 42 years and have three children.

JEFF CHAMBERLAIN

Jeff has served as the lead pastor of Copper Creek Christian Church in Maryville, Illinois. Jeff has served in ministries in Missouri, Illinois, and Arizona, experiencing firsthand what church leadership looks like when things are thriving...and when they're not. He cares deeply about the local church and believes renewal doesn't come from shortcuts or hype, but from patient faithfulness and trusting God to bring life where it feels least likely.

JIM DALRYMPLE

Jim serves as the Chief Advancement Officer and professor of New Testament and ministry at OCC. Jim's passion is strengthening churches and equipping leaders for effective ministry. Beyond the college, he serves as an elder and volunteer in his local church and regularly preaches and teaches at conferences and training events. Jim and his wife, Stephanie, have three children.

DR. MICHAEL DEFAZIO

Michael is the dean of Lincoln Seminary and a professor of New Testament and hermeneutics at OCC. He has served in pastoral ministries in California and Missouri. He earned a PhD from the University of Aberdeen and has written More Jesus, a devotional commentary on Paul's letter to the Colossians. Michael serves as an elder at Christ's Church of Oronogo in Oronogo, Missouri. He and his wife, Beth, have two children.

JUSTIN DEWELL

Justin serves as the director of OCC Resources and as a professor at OCC. With a background in local church leadership, Justin has served as a preaching minister in Kansas, Missouri, and Kentucky. He is passionate about strengthening ministry leaders. Justin lives in Joplin with his wife, Jenna.

ERIC EPPERSON

Eric is the director of development at CIY. During his two decades at CIY, he has told stories that have inspired and partnered with church leaders around the world to help young people serve and love the church.

ANDREW ESTES

Andrew serves as the director of training for Nexus: Church Planting and Leader Care and as a church vision coach with RunFree.co. He holds a master's in organizational leadership from the Townsend Institute at Concordia University Irvine and a bachelor's degree from OCC. Since 2017, Andrew has helped pastors, planters, and nonprofit leaders articulate their God-given vision and build practical strategies for disciple-making and mission clarity. He lives in Loveland, Colorado, with his wife, Megan, and their four children.

JAYSON FRENCH

Jayson is the president of CIY, where he has served for over 20 years. He is passionate about seeing a generation grasp the gospel and do kingdom work. Under his leadership, the team at CIY is leading an initiative to call 30,000 young people into ministry.

MONTE FRENCH

Monte graduated from OCC in 2017 and from Denver Seminary in 2019. Since March 2020, he has served as the senior minister at Marion Road Christian Church in Rochester, Minnesota. Monte and his wife, Whitney, have one son, Maxwell.

JULIE GARISS

Julie has had the privilege of speaking and teaching for Christ for over 35 years, joining two of her loves—people and the Scriptures. Julie has spoken at hundreds of women's banquets and conferences. She also authored a women's Bible study, Living Whole. Julie and her husband, Randy, have three married children and eleven grandchildren, ages 4 to 21.

DR. FRED HANSEN

Fred taught at Lincoln Christian University, Johnson University, and TCM International Institute for more than 20 years before coming to Ozark in 2023. Fred holds a Ph.D. in Religious/Biblical Studies from Radboud University, an

M.Div. in New Testament and an M.A. in Old Testament from Lincoln Christian University, and a B.A. in World Missions from Lincoln Christian College. He has taught internationally in over thirty countries worldwide and ministered in churches in Minnesota and Illinois. Fred and his wife, Cindy, have two children.

BOBBY HARRINGTON

Bobby is the founding and lead pastor of Harpeth Christian Church in Franklin, Tennessee. He is the founder and leader of Discipleship.org and RENEW.org. He completed studies at Princeton Theological Seminary, the University of Calgary, and Asbury Seminary, and holds a Master of Theology degree from Harding University and a Doctor of Ministry degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He has written or co-written over 20 books. He lives with his wife in the Nashville area, near his two married children and six grandchildren.

MICHAEL HINNEN

Michael is a professor of Old Testament at OCC. He holds a Bachelor of Theology from Ozark and a Master of Divinity from Lincoln Christian University. Before joining Ozark's faculty, Michael served as associate minister at Berlin Christian Church in New Berlin, Illinois, where he worked with children and students, preached regularly, and helped guide the church's discipleship ministries. He loves to teach and train people to follow Jesus more closely. Michael and his wife, Jonelle, have two young daughters.

CAM HUXFORD

Cam grew up in the farmlands of South Carolina, where his early aspirations to become an attorney were transformed at age 15 by a call to ministry. He graduated from Point University in 1978 and later pursued graduate studies at Emmanuel School of Religion. At the age of 27, Cam was called to lead Savannah Christian Church, a congregation that would later be renamed Compassion Christian Church to better reflect its expanding mission to the surrounding communities. After 40 years of dedicated service, Cam recently retired from the same church, having seen it grow from 260 members to more than 10,000 across seven campuses. In addition to his pastoral work, Cam has served as the president of the North American Christian Convention and on the board of directors at Point University. In his retirement, he continues to speak at ministers' conferences, church leadership conferences, marriage seminars, and men's retreats. Cam and his wife, Sarah, have three sons, three daughters in law, and twelve grandchildren.

DR. KAL MCALEXANDER

Kal currently serves as the executive director for the Chaplaincy Endorsement Commission of the Christian Churches and Churches of Christ. Throughout his military chaplaincy career, he received the Meritorious Service Medal (three awards), Navy Commendation Medal (two awards), Coast Guard Commendation Medal, Navy Achievement Medal, Coast Guard Achievement Medal, Outstanding Volunteer Service Medal, and numerous unit awards, campaign, and service medals. Chaplain McAlexander and his wife, Cynthia, have three children, two daughters-in-law, and three grandchildren.

DR. DANIEL MCCOY

Daniel is the editorial director for RENEW.org as well as an adjunct professor of philosophy for OCC. He has a bachelor's in theology (OCC), a master's degree in apologetics (Veritas International University), and a PhD in theology (North-West University, South Africa). Among his books are the Popular Handbook of World Religions (general editor), Real Life Theology Handbook (with Andrew Jit), Mirage: 5 Things People Want from God that Don't Exist, and The Atheist's Fatal Flaw (co-authored with Norman Geisler). Daniel and his wife, Susanna, have three daughters and two sons.

TYLER MCKENZIE

Tyler is the lead pastor at Northeast Christian Church in Louisville, Kentucky. He is known for his real-time preaching on pressing issues, his love for teaching the Bible, theology, and cultural engagement in accessible ways, and his deep passion to see peace and justice prevail for all the people of Louisville. Tyler has co-produced five seasons of a podcast for elementary kids called "The Preacher and the Piano Man." He writes the monthly Engage column for the Christian Standard. He volunteers as a Little League baseball coach. Tyler holds an MDiv in Biblical Studies from Cincinnati Christian University and is currently finishing his doctorate at Wheaton University. He and his wife, Lindsay, have three kids.

MATT MEROLD
